

About every country has a FHIR specification now. But how are we going to talk cross-border?

- We need initiatives like IPS that help providers interpret data from each others.
  - Also regional profiles like the Nordic IPA.
  - Part of this challenge can be solved by smart niche apps, though.
- We should invent mechanisms for patients to act as custodians and couriers of their data.
  - One challenge is provenance, and to decide what makes sense to be signed as a single package.
